Protest to Venezuela

Government Gunboat Uses U. S. Flag to Approach Ciudad Bolivar.

And Then Bombards City Killing People and Injuring Foreign Section.

Having Effected Purpose They Apologise and Salute Stars and Stripes.

Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad Sept. 24.-A leading German merchant who recently escaped from Ciudad, Bolivar, on the Orinoco river, at Venezuela, arrived here yesterday, and made a statement under oath before the officials here, setting forth that on August 20 the Venezuelan warship Restaurador, formerly George J. Goulds yacht Atalanta, when steaming up the Orinoco river for the second time, in order to again bombard Ciudad, Bolivar, hoisted the United States flag in order to be able to reach that city without arousing the suspicions of the inhabitants as to her identity, and in this stratagem reached the custom house at Ciudad Bolivar.

identity, and in this stratagem reached the custom house at Ciudad Bolivar. She then immediately opened fire on the centre of the city, causing loss of life and damage to property in the quarters inhabited by the foreigners. The merchant also stated that the foreign consuls and the population of Ciudad Bolivar, protested against the actions of the Restaurador.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Two cablegrams from United States Minister Bowen at Caracas, were received at the State Department today. The first stated that the Venezuelan gunboat Restaurador had approached Ciudad Bolivar, flying the United States flag. She did not lower the flag until she was very close the shore when she opened fire upon the insurgents from her position there, creating great consternation.

When the Restaurador returned to La Guira, the fact was reported to Minister Bowen, who indignantly demanded a complete apology from the Venezuelan government and also that the flag of the United States be saluted by the offending ship.

The second cablegram from Mr. Bowen reports that the Venezuelan government promptly acceded to these terms, made a suitable apology, and the commander of the Hestaurador hoisted the United States flag and fired a national salute. The matter is still under consideration between the State and Navy Departments.

At mid-day a lunch was given to Sir Henri Joly and the minister of agriculture, the Deputy Minister and guests. The usual loyal toasts were honored and The usual loyal toasts were honored and Mr. Prentice in responding to the legislature emphasized the necessity of the exhibition, and was of opinion that one interior important show should receive government support. As there was more agricultural wealth in the interior than any part of the province, more should be done in the matter of irrigation, a subject which the government had under consideration. In his opinion, a commission should be appointed to establish full data as conditions were so different to other dry countries, and the question with that of small holdings, was one the government intended

GERMAN TARIFF.

A Deadlock Over the Meat and Animal Duties.

Berlin, Sept. 24.—The government and the Reichstag majority have reported a deadlock on the tariff. The Imperial secretary of state for the interior, Count Von Posadowsky-Welmer enunciated to the Reichstag Tariff committee today more sharply than ever before the government's determination not to accept the bill as amended at the first reading, and the committee immediately revoked the meat and animal duties to the same as at first reading, at which Count Von Posadowsky-Welmer had particularly objected. Herr-Herold, the Centrist leader, affirmed that without those duties the Centrists would not support the bill. The agrarians of the two Conservative factions, and portions of the National Liberals sustain Herr Herold's position.

Boer Appeal Misrepresents and Has Alienated Sympathy.

London, Sept. 25.—The tone and contents of the manifesto of the Boer generals, which was issued in the form of an appeal to the civilized world for contents of the manifesto of the Boers and help in the education of Boer children excite the utmost resentment of the whole British press, and the document tends to alienate the sympathy which has hitherto been felt for Boer people in many quarters. It is regarded as a manifesto of hostility to Great Britain, and the work not of Generals Bothan, Dewet and Delarey, but of Dr. Leyds, the Europeon representative of the Boers, and Mr. Reitz, former state secretary of the Transvaal, and a blunder which the Boers will live to regret. The statement contained in the manifesto that 30,000 houses have been burned is declared to be a gross exaggeration, and complaint is made that while the document presents the cause against Great Britain in the worst possible light, it dishonestly ignores the fact that the British government has promised to advance loans free of interest for three years, to enable Boers to re-settle on their farms. It is pointed out that even if the Boers' estimate of 30,000 farms destroyed is correct, these $15,000,000 granted under the peace terms will give each family $500. The idea that the appear' is lively to result in getting something like $150,000,000 is ridiculed as preposterous.

Mrs. Charlotte Brown again called attention to the drainage on Dallas road. A new residence was now being erected by Mrs. Brown, and she asked that proper facilities be provided for the locality. The city engineer said that his report had been for a drain along Battery street to connect with the pipe on Dallas road, and it was for a surface drain.
Ald. Worthington brought up the question of closets connected with surface drains. Nothing had been done in this matter, and it was time that the proper officer did something in the matter.

THE CANADIAN PRESS.

Wherever Sir Edmund Barton went in Canada he drew attention to the difficulty in news service which afflicts the Canadian press, and in almost his last words before he left our shores he again emphasised the painful impression made upon him by this feature of our national life. He thought it strange that Australia, with only two inhabitants to our three could support a good news service while we could not. The matter is not altogether so easy as all that. No matter how good a news service the people of Qanada can support, the people of the United States, with their larger and wealthier constituencies can support a better. This works against an independent Canadian news service in two ways. In the first place the Canadian newspapers have to compete with American newspapers in their own constituencies, and in the second place a news service based on the American service independent service could be. At the same time without national newspapers it is impossible to have a true national spirit. Although no one could reasonably complain of the nationalism of our newspapers editorially, no matter what shade of political opinion they express, there is a great deal of anti-British foreign stuff foisted upon Canadian news-papers through the defects of the system of purveying it. For instance, we had in our newspapers stories about dissatis-faction and disgust on the part of our troops quartered at Alexandra Palace during the Coronation... We were told that a charge was made for people to go to see them, as if they were wild boasts in a menagerie, that they had to sleep in mud, and generally were treated like so much mud themselves. Nothing could have been better calculated had it been true, to fire the indigna-tion of a generous people. Here were men who had volunteered from a colony in the purest spirit of generous patriotism to fight the battles of the Empire. They had proved themselves the most effective troops of any in the field, and as gallant as any. Yet we were led to understand that they were treated as if they were Imperial menials hired to do some disagreeable work. From an interview published, we think in a Ross-land paper, with one of the returned contingent, we learn that this whole idea of their reception in the United Kingdom was entirely and absolutely false The colonial troops were, by private corporations, public bodies, and the mass of the people, treated with a generous enthusiasm at once spontaneous and remarkable. In fact from descriptions, we judge that it would be dangerous both to the sense of discipline and modesty which characterize true soldiers, for troops of any kind to go through 'such an experience very often. Once in 'a life time it was all very well, and highly creditable to the people of the United Kingdom. So that we find we had false news at first and news well calculated to, and we believe deliberately designed and there are others. It is a very great pity that no public man in Canada has as yet taken up the matter in the same spirit and from the same point of view as Sir Edmund Barton. We hope it will not be long before some public man in Canada does. Is it not remarkable that Sir Edmund Barton, who has conthat Sir Edmund Barton, who has con-solidated a great nation, who in his specches was dealing with tremendous Imperial issues, and who has dealt in few matters of small importance for few matters of small importance for many years, should have over and over again insisted upon this feature Canadian life as detrimental and in-jurious? But we are pointing out again, as we have often done before, that the present state of things is highly dangerous, both to national and Imperial interests in this country and is fostering an anti-British sentiment among people who do all their reading in the news columns of the papers, and who seldom wade through editorials, however sound or brilliant they may be. The following despatch sent by the party of British journalists to the press of the United Kingdom through Reuter's agency, indicates that British Columbia made a deeper impression upon them than any other portion of the Dominion. The means taken to acquaint them with the resources of British Columbia, and the hospitality shown them, contributed largely to this favorable impression. British Columbia "scooped" the balance of the Dominion, so far as these journalists are concerned. There was as much to see elsewhere no doubt, but the necessary trouble was not taken to have latest development in the tourist direction is a scheme for circular tours at an inclusive price between Great Britain and Canada.

Sir Alfred Jones is interesting himself in the matter, and is working out the details of the arrangements that nave to be made.

Italiway interests on both sides of the Atiantic have to be approached to ensure the perfect working of the idea.

Sir Alfred's main basis is that a passenger ought to be able to go to a touring agency and pay for a ticket which would cover all expenses, including those by sea and land, both traveling and hotel.

This, in Sir Alfred's opinion, would

It is to give the same advantages to people in a better position that he is evolving the present scheme, which it may be stated, would effect a considerable reduction in the expenses at present necessarily incidental to a tour in the new world.

The principal cities and resorts in Canada will be embraced in the arrangements. No details are yet settled, and the scheme could not be brought into working order before next season.

Sir Alfred Jones, who has an Imperial motive in everything he does, has found that by making similar provision for through booking to the West Indies and the Canary islands, travel to these places has been steadily on the increase.

"At preseat," said Sir Alfred Jones, "through a scheme similar to the one I am developing for Canada it is possible to go to the Canary islands and back for £15, which includes both hotel and traveling expenses.

Arrangements Being Made to Produce Handel's "Elijah" on Large Scale.

The oratorio "Elijah" is to be given in this city during the early part of the concert season, and will no doubt be as great a treat for music-lovers as was the "Messiah" and the "Creation," given during last winter, and which caused a desire for better acquaintance with the works of the great masters. The 'Elijah," the greatest and grandest of all oratorios, has most difficult music, and will require many rehearsals.

It is the intention of Mr. Herbert Taylor—under whose leadership the work will be performed—to give the oratorio on a larger scale than fins ever been attempted on this Coast. If a chows of not less than 250 voices can be obtained, arrangements will be concluded with one of the finest orchestras in the United States, 60 in number, to prepare the work. Everything depends entirely upon the number and quality of voices at command.

"THE TEMPEST,"

Notable Performance by Two Kings the Stage.

Notable Performance by Two Kings of the Stage.

Manager Jamieson announces for next Monday evening the joint engagement of Louis James and Frederick Warde. They will be supported by one of the largest, if not the largest, company that has appeared in this field of the drama during the present generation. As frequently announced the play in which they will appear will be "The Tempest," the most exquisite romantic comedy written in any language.

Every intending patron is asked in the advertised announcements of the performance to be seated before the beginning of the play, and those who do not heed the wirning will have reason for regret, as they will miss one of the most elaborate and wonderful scenes which modern stage ingenuity has devised.

Frederick Warde will be seen in the congenial role of Prospero, and Louis James in the unique character study of Caliban. Prince Ferdinand, who is the first mortal man except her father than the innocent Miranda has seen, and who is so handsome that she imagines him to be a god, will be played by Mr. Norman Hacket. The mischlevous but obedient Ariel will be assumed by Miss Teresa Maxwell. Mr. Wadsworth Harris, Thomas Gooke and other noted artists, together with an attractive corps de ballet and a chorus of well-trained voices, will make up a dramatic company such as, in numbers and aggregate artistic talent, is rarely seen in this very commercial age of the draga. The sale of seats opens this morning at 9 o'clock at the Victoria Book & Stationery store.

That tired feeling is a burden you need not carry. Hood's Sarsaparilla will rid you of it and renew your courage.

HANSON KILLED.

Escaped Convict Shot by a Farmer.

Ed. Hanson, a convict who escaped from McNeill's island, Washington, on Monday, was shot and killed by a farmer on Tuesday afternoon.

Hanson escaped shortly after noon on Monday. Nineteen prisoners were cutting wood in a strip of timber back of the penitentiary, under the surveillance of three guards. Watching his chance, Hanson made a dive for the brush. The guards made an effort to head him off and fined at him several times sefore he disappeared. None of these shots took effect, and for several hours nothing was seen of him. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon one of the searching parties sighted him on a road leading to Still harbor, on the north side of the island. The fugitive saw his pursuers at the same time he was himself sighted, and, plunging into the brush, he again defied all efforts at taking him. From that time until the snooting he was not seen.

again defied all efforts at taking him. From that time until the snooting he was not seen.

Hanson was sentenced from Spokane in April, 1901, to serve a term of tenyears in the penitentiary for counterfeiting. This is the third time he had escaped from the penitentiary.

Hanson was shot by a farmer named Sherman. He went to Sherman's house and boldly asked for matches. Sherman had just returned from searching for Hanson, and he told him he must go back with him to the penitentiary. Hanson refused, and started towards the woods. Sherman followed, urging him to stop, and threatening to shoot. Hanson laughed and told him he would not fire, and, leaping a fence, started on a run to the forest. Finding that his man was about to escape, Sherman fired at his legs to main him. The bullet ranged high and struck Hanson just at the base of the spine, ploughing a hole through his body.

A number of other searchers who were in the vicinity heard the shot, and, attracted by the farmer's cries for assistance, quickly made their appearance on the seene. Hanson's wounds, coupled with his long fast and the exposure of sleeping out, were rapidly weakening him.

A makeshift stretcher was hurriedly but together and he was said.

Before dying Hanson told those about him that his real name was Ed. Christensen, and that he had a wife and five children at Central Butte, North Dakota.

AT THE SMELTER.

AT THE SMOLTEDR.

AN PREVIOUSLY mentioned, the ore smelted during July was small compared with the capacity of the plant, owing to the shortage of coke in consequence of labor troubles at Crow's Nest Pass (now settled.) We, however, produced and shipped 30 carloads of matte, containing $330,000. This was due to the high grade of the ore treated.

No. 1 furnace is in shape to blow at any time. It is practically a new furnace. Furnace No. 3 has been thoroughly overhauled, and we are now putting Nos. 2 and 5 in good condition. We have taken out the bottoms of No. 1, 2 and 3, and from the numerous samples taken I estimate the metal values contained in the three at $45,000. I intend to take out the bottoms of Nos. 4 and 5. The latter is supposed to be very rich, owing to the large quantity of furnace bottoms which were fed into it at the clean up made during the time of the late labor troubles. I consider it a waste of time and money to reclare this violent of the read to reclare the violent of the read to reclare the violent of the read to the read and money to reclare the violent of the large quantity of the plant of the large quantity of the clean of the late labor troubles. I am erecting a small reverberatory cheaply. It will make a rich matte that can be earefully sampled and readily sold in New York. The total cost of this furnace will not exceed $1,500. The expect to be able to ship the rich product now tied up in furnace bottoms about the middle of September.

Macdonald, general manager of Le Roi mine No. 2, of the Rossland Great Western and Kootenay Mining company, and one of the most eminent mining men in the province will remove his family to Spokane and make that point his headquarters in future. He will retain his connection with the Rossland mines, and is decidedly optimistic as to the future of the camp generally.

COPPER NEAR VICTORIA. Good Ore Found at Pike Lake, Within Ten Miles.

Samples of ore carrying a good percentage of copper, have been brought in from Pike Lake, within ten miles of Victoria. The discoverer of this deposit is W. H. Collister, of the Alvion Tron Works, who has staked a claim there and is very much pleased with his find. The samples of ore are now being assayed, and if the results prove satisfactory, Mr. Collister will arrange to develop the property. The vein is said to be four feet in width and well defined.

regarded as a reliable authority on all matters relating to this important industry.

The management of the Enterprise mine gives the tomage passing through the company's mill at 730 tons for the month of August, The estimated profit on the month's operations is given as $5,030.

Some very fine ore is been as $5,030 down as the superation of the solid part of active silver having made its appearance. The gold values are also increasing, much of the ore going as high as $80. Three men are employed underground and they have flive tons of ore sacked and ready for shipment. It will not take long to fill out the car.—Slocan Drill.

The Monitor and Ajax gractions are being bounded in the London mining press, and the record of the Three Forks property appears to justify it. The ore clutted shipments were 1903 tons, and 11s value $1,030.

Stipments were 903 tons, and its value $71,363.

The crossent tunnel being driven at the foot of the shaft on this promising property is new twenty feet in, all in ore with no sign of a wail. The character of the same high quality, and the owners, who have a strong force of men at work on the property, are naturally feeling jubilant over the continued of their india. Another shipper will be added to the list of const mines before many weeks, this latest addition being the Young John O'Sullivan, and the report is very gratifying. Each sample warrants its being sent to the smelter, and they averaged $8, 820, 830 and $107 per ton respectively.—

The lady in question must surely, have been the mest precedents member of her craft on recoid. If the little stranger whose arrival as thus advertised, takes after her "maternal parent," (as the Babu litterateurs love to put it) in this respect, she is perhaps a lady doctor by this time. We are reminded of the case of a certain gentleman of Hebrale descent who, for reasons of his own, elected to exchange his native patronymic Abraham for the more impressive appellation of De Vere, Whereupon his friends took mean revenge by facetionisty writing of him as he Vere (nez Abraham).—Westminster Gazette.

Teams to Be Formed.

The teachers and pupils of the High school are entering with great spirit into the matter of organizing teams to repring resent that institution in the Rugby and Association football league. In addition to this, hockey will be taken up, and strong teams put in the field. In order to cover the necessary expenses, it has been decided to raise $100, and already pupils and teachers have secured nearly half that amount.

Vancouver Beaten, by Lavita Team.

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—(Special.—The fastest ball game ever seen here took place between the Lavitas and Vancouver teams today, the Lavitas winning by a score of 1 to 0. In the third innings Wheeler, of the visiting team hit a three-bugger off Law, and Smith of Vietoria brought him home with a little single to centre. Eight men each were struck out by McKay for Lawitas and Law for the home team. Three hits were made off Law and two off McKuy. Vancouver made, two errors and Lavitas none. Vancouver had three men left on bases. A side bet of $250 will be hung up in a silk bag over the press stand on tomorrow's deciding game.

Local ball players are expecting a visit from President Lucas of the Pacific Northwest League, who has gone to Vancouver to endeavor to have the professional team, which that city recently imported, play in the league series next season, and it is said that President Lucas will come to Victoria to medical the season league. If permits can be obtained for Sunday games in the clouds seem to thicken as the clouds seem to thicken as this city and Vancouver, teams will likely be placed in the league, but otherwise it is not expected that Victoria or Vancouver will be represented, and Ogden and Salt Lake will probably taken into the Northwest league.

TRAILS BLOCKED

From Ladysmith Leader.

Some of the bush fires which have been raging behind Ladysmith for some time back have held the effect of blocking up sections of the trail constructed last summer by the E. & N. Railway company, under the direction of Mr. Sutton. Many large timbers have fallen across the track, and will require hard work to cut out. In some places the trunks have biled over one another to quite a height, and these spots will present no inconsiderable obstacle to the clearers. Several parties of prospectors and in ners who have lately arrived in town over the trail, report having had hard work to get along at all. It is understood that an effort will be made to clear the trail and put it into as good condition as it was before the fires spoiled the walking. A large party of working are now clearing away the failent timber and will have the trail opened from end to end in a day or two.

Report That Long Lost Austrian Grand

Has the long-lost Archduke Johann

Has the long-lost Archduke Johanne, who renounced his royal rights and fled from Austria with the daughter of a shopkeeper, been found?

Emperor Francis Joseph and other members of the imperial family are said to be much excited over the report that the Archduke, who has been supposed to be dead for years, is living in one of the South Sea islands. The Archduke, if he were now alive, would be helr to the Austrian throne.

The statement that Johanne is alive and living in the South Sea Islands is based on letters received in Vienna from Servian settlers in the United States, The information is said to have been given to the Serviens by a man named Paichurich, cantain of a Dalmatian year.

of troops at the army manoeuvres. When "John Orth" next called at Strubel's little shop he was met with reproaches, but he admitted his identity and declared he intended to marry Mizzi.

Mizzi.

He snapped his fingers at the Emperor, who ordered him to cease his attentions to the girl, renounced his titles, collected all the money he could from his estates and married Mizzi. He purchased a vessel and sailed away with his bride on a honeymoon trip. The ship rouched at Buenos Ayres, and sailed thence for Valparalso.

The ship was wrecked, and no one ever learned definitely whether the Archduke and his bride were rescued. There have been many rumors that Johanne has been seen in South America.

OH BURNER DESTROYED. River Steamer Burned as a Result of

I Elizabeth Patterson, of San Francisco, was seriously injured while being dragged out of the burning cabin by fremen. The Modoc was recently made an oil burner, and it is thought the fire came from a leakage around the furnace.

When the are started there were between 25 and 30 passengers on deck. The flames first burst through the deck between the cabin and gang plank, cutting off the means of getting ashore, A panic, followed. Some passengers jumped to the wharf. Others jumped into the bay and were reserved in boats. Louis Miller, a fireman, was taken from the hold through a hole chopped in the side of the vessel by firemen. Many of the passengers narrowly escaped death, but it is thought all have been accounted for.

OVERDUE ARRIVES.

Netherby at San Francisco From New-castle.

The overdue British ship Netherby has arrived at San Francisco from Newcastle, Australia. The vessel was 113 days on the voyage. Reinsurance rates on her were quoted at 15 per cent. Light winds and calms delayed her. She brought 2,118 tons of coal. The vessels now remaining on the overdue list are the Claverdon and William F. Babcock. Anxiety is daily increasing among London and Liverpool underwriters for the British ship Claverdon, now out of Hamburg 214 days for San Francisco. They are striving in every possible way to search information concerning the vessel that might tend to explain her non-appearance. Her reputation as a slow and unwieldly brute has up to this time kept reinsurance premiums on her down to a remarkably low point, the present offering being only 35 per cent. Captain Thomas, her master, was formerly in the British bark Norfolk Island, and this is his first voyage in the Claverdon. The overdue vessel is laden with 3,000 tons of cement and about 450 tons of fertilizer, a cargo that would not help her to live if she was seriously damaged in a collision.

On August 31 the Russian ship Borrowdale, which arrived at Port Townsend on Tuesday from Algoa Bay, fell in with the schooner. The vessel's appearance was nailed with delight by the unfortunate fellows aboard the Klose, for short, rations had become doubly short with the prospect of starvation staring them in the face. The Borrowdale herself had no great abundance of provisions, but her generous and wholesonled master, Capt. Wennstrom, did not hesitate to afford relief with the few stores he could spare.

The Klose is a comparatively nev schooner of small dimensions, and has been operated on the Const for several years past. Ordinarily the Klose has made fast trips in her work.
